

Dean Curry

Expert in international ministry, fundraising, and humanitarian partnerships

As lead pastor of Life Center in Tacoma and founder of The Global Neighbor Project, Dean engages with his congregation and city to care for communities worldwide supported by World Vision.

His passion, care, and love have led him to support World Vision as a partner pastor and child sponsor; he has also traveled with World Vision on several international ministry trips. After founding The Global Neighbor Project in 2006, Dean partnered with local organizations to raise $400,000 toward World Vision's efforts to eradicate the HIV and AIDS crisis. In 2008, The Global Neighbor Project and Life Center received the Courageous Leadership Award from World Vision and the Willow Creek Association for their extensive humanitarian efforts.

Dean earned his philosophy degree from Northwest University and is the author of two books, Boost! and Hope AM. He is also actively engaged in efforts to encourage and support the persecuted church around the world.

Dean and his wife, Anne, live in Tacoma, Washington, and have two grown children.
